YELL CLUB GETTING MORE ACTIVE

Our Yell Club came through with flying colors at the Adams game. They are practicing every other Wednesday on the business of yelling. Special sections are being reserved for them at the assemblies and games. To become a member students must promise on their word of honor to attend a half of our games.

Announcements concerning the games, club, etc. will be given at meetings and posted on the bulletin boards.

CHRISTMAS WEEK ACTIVITIES SCHEDULED

At a teachers meeting last Thursday, a schedule for the activities of the last week of school was made. The school program will be a musical assembly on Tuesday, December 21 beginning at 8:30 a.m. Home room parties may be held on Wednesday morning during sponsor period. Club parties may be held during the noon hour or after school on Monday and Tuesday. School will be dismissed at 3:00 p.m. on Wednesday. No parties may be scheduled for after school on Wednesday.

Queen, Too!

Christmas Seals Are Coming!

Washington High School's Christmas Seal campaign will get under way on Wednesday, December 13, under the supervision of the Hi-Y Club. The seals will be on sale in the main hall near the office before school in the morning, during the noon hour, and after school.

As in other years, Christmas Seal buyers will chose a Christmas Seal Queen during the campaign. Each sponsor room is invited to choose one girl to be a candidate for Queen. Anyone buying ten seals is eligible to cast one vote for any candidate he wishes. The Seal Queen will be crowned during the Christmas Seal Mixer, probably Wednesday, December 22.

There will be also a Christmas Mailbox in the main hall, on the trophy case. Christmas greeting cards addressed to anyone in the building and sealed with a Christmas seal will be delivered by the Hi-Y Club. The mailbox will be opened on December 13. As previously, it will be decorated by the Girls Ushers' Club.

Three-Ply Special

Date for Xmas Program Set

The band, glee club, and dramatics class are planning a Christmas program to be given Tuesday morning, December 21. Regular rehearsals are being held in preparation for the program.

The dramatics class will present tableaux and have charge of the lighting of the stage.

The elementary school children will sing familiar carols including "Angels We Have Heard On High," Brahms' "Lullaby," "Deck the Hall," and two Polish Carols. The glee club will offer "No Candle Was There and No Fun," by Liza Lehman; "A Joyous Christmas Song," by Hokanson, (a Norwegian carol); "Carol of the Bells," by Leontovich, (Ukrainian carol); "Gesu, Bambino," by Pietro A. Yon; "Legend," by Tschalkowsky; Christmas Echo Hymn by Hugo Jungst, (a seventeenth century hymn).

The band, in addition to a medley of carols, will present a brass quartet and a clarinet quartet. The assembly will close with "Joy To The World" sung by the entire chorus and asseembly.

Holiday Spirit

Y-Teens To Decorate School

The Y-Teens of Washington are planning to decorate the school about a week or so before Christmas. As we all know, usually the decorations were set up just two or three days before the holiday began. This year the school will be set in Yuletide spirit for almost two weeks before vacation.

Fire-proof paper wreaths with colored scenes. A huge "Merry Christmas" will be hung in the hall. The Hi-Y will aid the Y-Teens in decorating the Christmas tree in the main hall.

The club is sure this will put everyone in a Christmas mood.

The Hanging of the Green.

The Y.W.C.A. held its annual Hanging of the Green ceremony on Sunday, December 5, 1948. The Hanging of the Green is the decorating of the Christmas tree in the main hall.

Refreshments were served and there was, in all, a lot of fun.

Y-Teens Plan Christmas Party.

The Y-Teens Christmas party will be held on December 22 in the gym of the Y.W.C.A. Refreshments and entertainment will be supplied by the committee. Gifts will be exchanged by numbers.

Panda Club Christmas Breakfast.

The Panda Club is to have its traditional Christmas Breakfast on Wednesday, December 22. Planning for it is being delayed until after the senior play since all club members and the sponsor, Miss Fortin, are busy with the play.

Curtain Rises at 8:00 p.m. Tonight

At 8:00 p.m. this evening the senior class will present "Jane Eyre", a romantic play in three acts. The play will also be given Friday, December 10.

The following committies have been chosen to assist in the production.

Ticket Committee—Miss Miller, faculty advisor; Bill DePaape, Mary Jane Dobbelaere, Don Jozwiak, Rita Kalka, Veronica Michalski, Phyllis Dhaene, Renetta Kurpiewski, Joan Nowicki, Alice Cwidak, Tillie Salvin, Lily Bencsics and Joe Szucsits.

Publicity Committee—Steve Lebedzinski and Pete Smith.

Properties Committee—Mr. Wegner, Pat Van Rassen, Bernice Townsend, Ethel Nichols, Charles Van Wynsburg, Ed Rogers, Helen Ryback, Loretta Wilczynski, and Bill DePaape.

Program Committee—Miss Martindale, faculty advisor; Natalie Nowik, Chairman; Dorothy Kashmer, Francis Phillips, Elsie Deguc, Lucille Dehert, Geraldine Staszewski, Eugene Jurgonski, Virgil Hack and Dolores Jozwiak.

NOW!

What Shall We Do?

One of the problems facing Washington students is "What can we do at the noon-hour for entertainment?" The rule thus far is to go to the library, where a person must study and not talk; go outside where the cold greets you; or go into the gym where it is overcrowded. There are at least two hundred students needing some place to go at noon. There aren't places for two hundred in gym and library.

If we had two or three activities to choose from at noon, no one place would be overcrowded and the activities would keep students out of the halls. Movies, winter ice-skating in the field behind the building, and more dancing have been suggested.

Movies in the auditorium would make extra work for teachers at noon and more expense. The question is how many students would attend and what would be their conduct?

Ice-skating in cold weather is a simple matter and would be enjoyed by many.

More dancing is also a simple matter. However, when the opportunity comes, very few take advantage of it.

Basketball games between home rooms last year proved to be a success. But there isn't room in the gym for many spectators.

You students who are discontented with the present set-up and have sensible suggestions for improving it, pass your ideas on to the Student Council. Then perhaps the question "What can we do with ourselves" will be solved.

All for the Cause

Teachers Have Troubles Too!

We'll call our long-suffering teacher "Miss A."

Miss A. gets to school before the students arrive (this is to insure she'll get inside her home room without a dozen students bumping her, half-tripping her, or opening a door in her face.) She settles herself down at her desk so that she may see the students as they come in. Well, anyway, she sees parts of their faces behind the bubble gum or open compacts. After trying desperately to separate the little gossiping groups around the room, she is ready to take attendance - r-r-ing-g-g! The bell has rung! The students gayly run, yell, fight, drop, creep, and (ah! yes!) some walk out the door to their next class. On goes the morning classes with pupils wanting to talk when she is, chewing gum, candy, etc., giggling in corners.

Ah, lunch hour! That peaceful (!) hour! Noise in the corridors; mobs in the gym; crumbs left on desks; food wrappers on floor. Then we're back to the grind. On goes the afternoon with the everlasting "I've lost my book!" "May I borrow a pencil?" the constant talk and giggling.

A few more minutes! — The bell has rung!

When Miss A. summons enough courage to go outside her door, she finds her way in to that lovely fresh air. Now, to get on the bus and go home for a rest. Oh, no! The students are in more of a hurry than she. After all of them have pushed on the bus, she is allowed on!

This may seem a little exaggerated, but really, students, it gives a rather true picture. Let's brush up on our manners and use them. The faculty will appreciate it.

The Juke-Box Review

Hi, music lovers! Here I go again with the latest dope on discs—records, that is. Jo Stafford and Gordon MacCrae seem to be quite a hit with their arrangement of "My Darling, My Darling!" with "Girls Were Made to Take Care of Boys" on the other side. Also Gordon and Jo team up with the Starlighters doing "Say Something Sweet To Your Sweetheart."

T.D.'s (Tommy Dorsey's, in case you don't recognize those initials) original arrangement of "Until" is still tops, with some good be-bop on the other side, called "After Hours Stuff."

Ah! for Spike Jones, the great novel arranger! Have you heard his "All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth"? It's packed with laughs, believe me.

Give me Tony Martin, anytime. His record of "Ah But It Happens!" is just super! "Buttons and Bows" seems to be a real hit nowadays. I like it best by Betty Garrett, but the Dinning Sisters have a really good arrangement, too. The Mills Brothers are sensations on their recordings of "I Want To Be the Only One," and "Gloria." I'm sure you'll like them. Has anyone heard "In a Slow Boat to China?" If not, where have you been? There are many arrangements of it. Personally, I like Eddy Howard's.

Since Christmas is just around the corner, you can see Christmas selections on all Juke Boxes. Eddy Howard's "I'll Be Home For Christmas" has lot's of Christmas spirit in it. Dick Hayme's "Christmas Song" is also tops. Fred Waring has an album of Christmas songs. One of the records is the "Dance of the Sugar Plums", which is really cute.

Well, music lovers, again I must bid you farewell 'til next time,

Librarian Plans New Club

Miss Hunsberger, our new librarian, plans to form a Library Club. This club will be a service club, whose main objective will be to promote a better relationship between the library and the students and to promote an interest among students in the use and service of the library.

At the present time students from the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grade are eligible to join. The seniors are not asked to join this program this year as they are to graduate so soon. The members will be limited to about fifteen people at present.

To start off with, the club plans to take over the responsibility of checking out books, putting them away, keeping shelves in order, mending books, and processing new ones. It later plans to go into the advanced work of library publicity, bulletin boards displays, taking care of the files, etc. The students will do this work in their library study periods. Some time will be given to the members to study during the period also.

Anyone interested should see Miss Hunsberger. The club will open as soon as a few have enrolled in it. Many of the other schools in South Bend have clubs working under this same principle. Miss Hunsberger hopes that Washington may soon join this family as the club is good both for the school and for the members.

Be a booster! Get behind THE HATCHET!"

when I'll have more platter chatter. 'Til then, here's music to you! B.O.

THE EDITOR LOOKS AT THE NEWS

Make the Christmas spirit complete: Buy Christmas Seals.

If we all would show a little courtesy in school and out of school, we could have our "two front teeth for Christmas."

About that question of students crowding ahead of teachers at the bus. It's a fact: we saw, one very rainy day, a group of WHS students push their way in ahead of the teachers waiting and SOME OF THE STUDENTS WERE BOYS WHO ALSO CROWDED AHEAD OF THE GIRLS. By all means, fellows, don't get your shoes wet! They are a lot less sturdy than the girls!

The poor janitors! Would any care to trade places with them? We wonder, too: how much papers do they have to pick up from the wash-room floors everyday? UGH!

We wonder where all those "misplaced" books are. They certainly couldn't have walked away by themselves.

The Y-Teens certainly believe in doing things! We mean DOING THINGS!

Since our able sports reporter Pete Smith is a member of the varsity squad, he is reporting on the Bee team games. Bob Sikorski, who gathered all those statistics during the football season, is doing the varsity reports.

Santa Claus will certainly bring a lot of sweaters to WHS this year — if he reads Miss Ask-It.

Answer: Put it in a box, tie it with a shoestring, and throw it in the river.

(At least that is what someone in 201 says.)

Miss Fortin will never know what a wonderful speaker Earl Miller is. When she is out of the room—!!

Poor Dorothy D. always hurry to fourth period study hall? Maybe she likes to see Don L., huh?

Did you see a flash of lightning coming out of first period geometry class? That was Betty B. running out so she could meet Ben W.

What Junior boy's eyes light up when he hears that name "Annie"? "Don't blush, Shiney! We know!"

Why does Barbara C. want to go to the Central-Mishawaka game? To see the game or to see Andy?

Who is the sophomore A that Tina has an eye on? Could it be Larry O?

Why does Rita Reiter like her work so well? Could it be Patrick?

What is this between Ed Pietrzak and Mary Ann P.? Serious?

Just mention a certain Norman Burke to a sophomore girl (Eleanor R.) and see the results!

Helen Nagy has been wearing a Central ring. What happened to Bill, Helen?

Mariann Cholasinski saw quite a bit of a certain Al, from Marquette U., over the Thanksgiving holidays. Oh! These lucky girls!

News from Central has it that Margie Rininger's old flame is still burning brightly. Doesn't he rate another chance, Marg?

Why is it that at the mention of Riley, Eugene Kasper seems to go into a daze. Who's the lucky girl, Gene?

This romance between Dizzy Lambert and Pete Pietrzak is old stuff, but have you noticed the gleam in Ed's eye when he sees Dizzy?

Washington Spills
John Adams 55-36

Led by Dick Strozewski, who netted 14 points, Washington's determined Panthers spilled a formidable Adams team 55-36 on the latter's home floor on November 30. The Panthers got off to an early start in the first quarter and led at the end 20-7. At the half Washington held a 21-point lead, 31-10. After this Adams never seriously threatened and at the third quarter Washington led 44-22.

DePaepe and Bucholtz followed Strozewski with 11 points apiece.

Panthers Nip
Madison 40-39

Bill DePaepe, netting 16 points, led Washington to their third win without a defeat by dropping a slick Madison Township team 40-39 on Last Thursday night. The Panthers had to come from behind to win this one. They trailed at the end of the first quarter 10-7; at the half, 24-16; and finally going into the last period, Madison held a mere 2-point lead, 29-27.

In the last stanza, the Panthers outscored Madison. Just before the gun Madison led 39-38. At the point Bill DePaepe sank a bucket to win the game.

Next to DePaepe in scoring was Bob Ogorek with 16 points. Hesch of Madison was high scorer of the evening with 17 points.

"MISPLACED" LIBRARY BOOKS

Just a reminder! The library books are our tools to be used in obtaining a better understanding of the world about us. These books are bought by the taxpayers; therefore, every student has a right to use them.

Unfortunately, some of the books in our library have been "misplaced." The librarian is asking every student to look at home and in his school locker to see if he has any of them. The librarian will ask no questions about these missing books when they are returned. She just wants them back.

There are at least forty "misplaced" books at present. Please help get all these back. And help lower the tax-rate by taking care of what we have! —G.A.

Panthers Win Season's Opener

Washington's Panthers opened the '48-'49 basketball campaign Friday, November 26, by dropping a stubborn New Carlisle team 37-34. It was nip and tuck all the way. Finally in the third quarter Washington established a 12-point lead, 32-20. New Carlisle came right back and tied it up in the final stanza 33-33. The Panthers then bounced back to score four more points to New Carlisle's one before the game ended.

Bill De Paepe was high scorer for Washington with 14 points; R. Mejer followed with 9 points.

BYERS' BEES WIN, LOSE, THEN WIN AGAIN

Coach John Byers' Bee Team opened their season against the New Carlisle seconds and came out victorious to the tune of 22-8. The backboard work of Jim Finch was outstanding and Jim Hecklinski's deadly shooting eye and all-round teamwork was instrumental in the victory. Earl "Baby Doll" Miller also played a good game.

In the Adams game it was close all the way and it looked like anyone's game until the final gun. With seventeen seconds to go and the score tied at 23-all, an Adams player sank a one-hander from the side to give them a 25-23 victory.

Against Madison the Bees were a pretty sad sight in the first half, with poor shooting and sloppy ball handling prevailing. One of the outstanding weaknesses in that half was our poor backboard work, especially on the defensive board. But the team came to life in the second half and remedied most of the first-half faults to come out on top 24-11. Outstanding in the game was Benny Wilkins, who was high-point man for the evening. —play
