During these two days, selected members of the glee clubs from the schools of northern Indiana will present musical numbers at the convention. These clubs will be under the direction of Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, Dean of the School of Music of Indiana University.

A student orchestra, made up of students from the same schools, will appear on the same program under the direction of Dr. George Dasch of Chicago.

Washington-Riley Round-up, Grid Game Friday and Saturday

Lorraine Wachowiak of home room 118, was chosen last week by the seniors to reign as the Washington Queen of the Washington-Riley Round-up and football game tomorrow and Saturday. She will be escorted by Richard Biggs. The members of her court will be Delphine Cwidak with Eugene Csabi; Jeanette Gorczyca with Robert Corrier; Carol Guzowski with Howard Siderits; and Betty Walorski with Richard Sobczak.

Additional Choices

Student Council Selects Officers

At its first meeting on September 27, members of the Washington Student Council selected Alma Lee Pasman as vice-president; Daniel Olyniczak as treasurer; and Barbara Vakarich as secretary. These, with Melvin Lesniewicz, who was elected president last spring, will compose the council officers for 1950-1951.

Committees were appointed for the Washington-Riley Roundup on October 20. The float committee is Nancy Vohlmann, chairman; Katherine Prathafatakis, Sandra Smith, Pat Aftowski, Melvin Lesniewicz, and Daniel Olyniczak. The committee on selection of the queen is Barbara Vakarich, Alma Lee Pasman, Pat Theodoroff, Lorraine Odynski, and Josephine Handler.

FRESHMAN PARTY ATTRACTS 100

One hundred freshman gathered at their first class party in the Washington Gym last Friday afternoon. A Hallowe'en motif was used in the decoration.

The committees included: Robert Lee Van, Mary Ann Czajkowski, Wilford Phillips, James Teeter, Joseph Koczan, Marilyn Woltman, Bill Thompson, Agnes Czarnecki, Patricia Bejma and Phillip Berndt, entertainment; Frank Linner, Patricia VanPutte, Richard Theodoroff, and Patricia Lewandowski, James Dials, Stanley Wau-mans, Shirley Haskins, Richard Theodoroff, Mary Lou Verselder, and Barbara VanSant, refreshments; Gerald Sobczak, Mary Jane Osowski, Thomas Hubbard, Marcia Radecki, Dolores Haluda, Nancy Mills, Jeanette Horvath, Adrienne Lupa, and Tressie True, decorations and invitations.

Details of the round-up program were completed on Friday. When school is dismissed tomorrow, students will leave the building by the back doors and form into lines behind the cheerleaders. The band will lead the parade. It will be followed by a convertible car bearing the queen and her court. Next in line will be a float. The cheerleaders will follow the float and the student body the cheerleaders. Any cars of students or teachers and students on bicycles will follow the marching students. Students are to stay in the street in the line of march, not on the sidewalks.

At Walker Field, after the arrival of the students of both schools, the program will open with a moment of silence, followed by the "Star Spangled Banner." The rest of the program follows:

Yell, "Hello, Washington"
Yell, "Hello, Riley"
Melvin Lesniewicz introduces Supt. Allen.
Bob Jones introduces Mr. Dake.
Lesniewicz introduces Mr. Schoepel.

Jones introduces Mr. Woods.

The program will be concluded at 3:30. Arrangements are being made to have the busses pick students up at the field instead of at school that night.

The Recent Elections

Most students of Washington H. S. "exercised their suffrage rights" in the recent class elections. After the "smoke and fire of political oratory" had subsided, one observer noted the following:

"Charges and counter-charges" were hurled by the followers of the various candidates. The opponents of Candidate A contended that his "political platform was vague," that he was "controlled by a political boss," that he was guilty of "sponsoring pork-barrel legislation," and that through "his henchmen" he had promised "a political plum" to almost half the electorate.

The supporters of Candidate A denied these accusations and charged that Candidate B was guilty of "party machine politics" and "violations of the Hatch Act", "straddling," and had "resorted to mud slinging and last minute lies."

One candidate was accused of having "a large slush fund" and favoring the use of the "spoils system," while another was labelled "a peanut politician" and as being in favor of "the 'yellow dog' contract." One person said that he had been "besmirched and besmeared with the grime and the mire of political corruption" and would never again be a candidate.

Most of the winning candidates received only a majority vote but a few posted substantial pluralities. E.N.R.

(P.S. Underclassmen: If this vocabulary of a typical political campaign puzzles you, inquire the meaning of it of the members of the civics class. They are trying to learn!)

WILLIAM C. COVERT, comptroller (treasurer) of Washington and biology teacher, graduated from Hanover College with an A.B. degree. He was principal of a consolidated and junior high school for two years. Then he taught in Rensselaer, Indiana, before coming to South Bend in 1930. He did graduate work at Butler University (Indianapolis), at Purdue University, and at the University of Michigan. He received his M.A. degree in biology from Michigan in 1936. He also spent one summer in Florida, doing marine study in both the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic, and one summer in Canada.

He is interested in real estate and farming, and has several hobbies, from fishing to antique collecting. He is married and has one son and two daughters.

ERVIN WEGNER, coach and history teacher, attended Washington Junior High and then graduated from Central and from Northwestern University. He played center on the Northwestern varsity team and took a bit of interest in all sports. During the war he served in the navy as commander of the gun crew on a merchant vessel, travelling over almost all the world. He was discharged as a junior grade lieutenant. He first acted as assistant coach at Central and at Adams high schools. When George Basker left Washington, he was sent to us. He says he does not have much time for hobbies; he spends all his time on the team.

LOUISE HUNSBERGER, librarian, also graduated from Central High. She is a graduate of Indiana University. She has been interested in athletics and likes to hike, swim, and play tennis. In basketball and football she is one of the spectators. Her favorite color is lavender and her favorite food is fried chicken. Her hobbies are reading and cooking — that hobby helps provide the fried chicken.

Miss Hunsberger's reasons for becoming a librarian were her liking for books and her working in a library. She likes Washington students. She sponsors the Library and the Y-Teen clubs.

MARY MARGUERITE MURPHY, chemistry and physics teacher, (M.M.M. on "admits") graduated from Central High too, and from Purdue (that school that everyone was talking about a week ago!) She also has studied in the Indiana University Extension Center and George Washington University. Her years at W. H.S. have never had a chance to become monotonous; for she has taught, in addition to her present classes, English, French, geography, and aeronautics here, and all grades from seven through twelve. She is sponsor of the Girls' Ushers' Club and of THE HATCHET and the yearbook. Her hobbies are reading, listening to music, gardening, and carpentering.

JR. TOWN MEETING TO BE ON AIR

Students, watch the newspapers for news on a junior Town Meeting of the Air! A demonstration of a J.T.M. will be given at Central High, November 8, 1950. Students from our school will attend this demonstration. The J.T.M. will be sponsored by the Student Forum.

An Open Letter To a Familiar Pest

Dear Busy Lizzie,

You're so busy trying to find someone who has his homework done so you can copy, that you use twice as much time as you would need to do it yourself. You're so busy chewing gum, talking, and day-dreaming in school that you never get any work done and yet—you're SO busy!

You're SO busy staying after school for chewing gum and for not having your daily lessons that you're SO very tired when you get home. When you just about get enough energy to open your English book (after such a hard day in school,) the telephone rings. Why, it's Messy Bessie, your favorite girl friend! After about two hours and after blasts from three angry party-line neighbors, you close your conversation. Taking a peek at the clock, you say to yourself, "Gee, now it's too late to do my homework!"

So, Lizzie, you've been SO busy, but what have you done?

Yours,
Snappy Susie

HERE'S HOW TO STUDY AT HOME

When one wishes to study at home, one should have the following equipment: one large table, one small radio in easy reach, one comfortable chair, one or more bottles of soft drinks, plenty of paper and one or more pencils and some type of snack such as popcorn, potato chips, or others.

To begin studying, one should turn on the radio to a comfortable volume, set the food and drink close at hand, and try to concentrate. One who uses this method of studying is bound to flunk unless one has amazing powers of concentration. Peter Pica

To Combat TB

Junior Board Tours Healthwin

The Junior Board of the Tuberculosis League met at Healthwin Hospital on Wednesday, October 11, for a tour of the sanatorium. The purpose of the tour was to acquaint the board members with the methods and equipment used in combating TB.

The Junior TB Board consists of two representatives from each senior high school in St. Joseph County: a senior and a junior. If the school is co-educational, a girl and a boy. The senior representative is Eleanor Taberski 12B of Home Room 203.

It was an interesting and educational experience to go on this tour. The board members met in the sanatorium's auditorium. The auditorium was furnished by former Healthwin patients. It is equipped with a small stage, an address system, and portable chairs. There is also a television set. The symbol of the Potawatomie Indians covers the drapes, for it was in the Potawatomie Park that the first TB stand was established.

The tour of the hospital consisted of seeing the laboratory, X-Ray room, conference room, class rooms, watch repair and radio repair rooms. Patients who are interested in finishing high school may do so at Healthwin. There is now a patient who is only four credits away from becoming the first student to complete all his high school work at Healthwin.

The hospital library, called the Woodson S. Carlisle Memorial Library, was furnished by the Mary Ann Club of the Studebaker Corporation.

The new Observation Ward containing the newest equipment is not yet open due to the shortage of nurses. It was interesting to note that Room 149 was furnished by the Junior TB Board.

Each member of the TB Board has a pen pal at Healthwin. Eleanor Taberski has as her pen pal Londa Wharton, an attractive dark haired, eighteen year old girl. Joan Bejma of South Bend Catholic and Joanna Harter of Washington-Clay also have Londa as a pen pal. The members were allowed to see their pen pals. (Londa, Joan, Joanna, and Eleanor talked about everything from how long she had been at Healthwin, to the progress of Helen Trent's love affair with Gil Whitney and the progress of the Guiding Light serial! Londa, having a radio in her room, informed the others.)

After an enjoyable visit with their pen pals, everyone returned to the auditorium. Then, Dr. Paul Green spoke on the methods of curing TB. He stated that in 1900, TB constituted a majority of

THIN CLADS FAIL TO TALLY

Seven Panthers have been running in conference cross-country meets, although thus far they won none. The seven have been coming in about this order: Peter Pica, Leon Grunert, Richard Jasinski, Robert Saltzgaber, Edward Szymczak, Robert White, and Richard Theodoroff.

To date our boys have run against Riley (2), Central (2), Washington-Clay, Adams, Elkhart, LaPorte, Goshen, Mishawaka, and Ft. Wayne North Side. The best score was made against Goshen, 11 points separating the two teams. The worst was against LaPorte and North Side; in each 35 points separated the teams.

CLUB NEWS

Y-TEEN CLUB

The week of October 9 to 13 was the annual Roll-Call Week for Y-Teens. The purpose of the week is to get new members. Some of the activities of the Washington Y-Teens during the week were to fill the display case with jewelry and emblems of the club; a meeting at 3:30 on Wednesday; taking part in the Teen-Time program on Wednesday, when the mayors of South Bend and Mishawaka were made honorary Y-Teens; giving an assembly on Friday, October 13, to tell the purpose and activities of the Y-Teens and to try to get students interested in joining.

YELL CLUB

The first Yell Club meeting was held on Thursday, October 5 and turned out to be a big success. About 75 students joined. This makes the club a very promising one. A record meeting was held on Tuesday, October 11 at noon in the auditorium, during which Miss Fortin announced that the students belonging to the club must buy their game tickets from her.

The idea for the Yell Club is to have a cheering section which will have practised with the cheerleaders so that the school will have an organized section at the games.

PANDA CLUB

Miss Fortin announces that there will be no Panda Club at present due to the fact that she is busy with the senior play and cheerleading. It may be organized at a later date.

THE HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club would like some new active members who will participate in ushering at the games and will attend all the school meetings. Interested boys should see Mr. Herringer or one of the officers.

LIBRARY CLUB

The library club held its latest meeting October 4th. Members planned to have a party the 25th of this month. To be in the Library Club you must work two periods out of a week.

The new officers are: President, Leola Alghrim; Vice-President, Eleonore Taberski, Secretary, Annette Arpasi, Treasurer, Marlene Fuessel.

Little Dickie's mother, trying to talk him into a bath, urged, "Surely you want to be a clean little boy, don't you?"

"Yes," tearfully agreed Dick, "but can't you just dust me?"

WASHINGTON, BEAT RILEY!

PLATTER PATTY SEZ:

Hi, guys and gals! How have you enjoyed this first month of school? You liked it? Swell. So did I. I guess school isn't such a bad place after all. (Or is it?)

Remember when we left school way back last June? Songs like Hoop Dee Doo, Sentimental Me, It Isn't Fair, The Third Man Theme, and Bewitched were way up on top of the hit parade.

Then, during the summer, songs like Mona Lisa, Count Every Star, Simple Melody, Tzena, Tzena, Tzena, and Sam's Song rose on the popularity poll and really kept the record shops in business as far as sales were concerned.

How many of those summer favorites are still with us on the hit parade. Gary Crosby's record of Sam's Song, backed by Simple Melody, is one of them, Tzena, Tzena, Tzena, by Mitch Miller is still up there, and no one will ever forget Nat (King) Cole's waxing of Mona Lisa.

Kay Starr and her record of Bonaparte's Retreat has the juke box crowd jumping for joy. An old Italian ballad, titled Just say I Love Her, is done up just right by Johnny Desmond. Johnny recently followed up his waxing of Ce Si Bon by another cute, French ditty entitled Pigale.

Hang on you Billy Eckstine fans. Have you heard Billy's new M. G. M. record, The Show Must Go On? O-o-h, what a voice! Fran Warren and her record of I Love the Guy, sets her apart from all the rest. The reverse, (Day After Day) I'll Always Love You is a swell ballad set to a tango beat.

I guess no record column is complete without mentioning this season's hit Goodnight Irene. It's the type of song that makes everyone sing; young, old, and in-between. Frank Sinatra's record is tops with me. In the polka department the Pilot Polka and Chicago Polka seem to head the list. Lately, there has been quite a bit of talk about the song Our Lady of Fatima. Some like it, others don't. I guess it's a matter of opinion, but, personally, I like it. The next time you hear it, think about the words and what they mean, especially at this time, and see if you don't like it that much more. I like Richard Hayes's recording. How about you?

Well, I guess that's all for now, but before I leave I wonder if you remember when everyone was playing Peggy Lee's record of Manana. Remember? Until next time I remain.

Yours,
PLATTER PATTY.

Looking Up

Washington Beats Adams, 32 - 6

After ambling through two victories and three defeats, The Washington football team exploded into something resembling real Panther character last Saturday night, to defeat the Adams' Eagles, 32 to 6. The team even managed to make three touchdowns in ten minutes to make the victory convincing. The scores were made by Ganser on a plunge from the one-yard line, Miller on a similar play, Cashaw on a twenty-yard sweep around right end, and Gilkey and Robertson on passes caught from Miller. The Adams' score was set up by a blocked punt. The game hints that football may be "looking up" at Washington.

Until last Saturday, the football record is nothing to brag about. The boys got off to a slow and unfamiliar start when on September 15 they met Central Catholic of Fort Wayne and took a 27-6 drubbing. The Panthers were tame cats, indeed, that night, rather than the slick, fighting animals whose name they claim. Members of the coaching staff, student body, and public were not happy with the appearance of the squad, particularly with its lack of fight.

Stinging from the remarks of friend and foe alike, the squad went into the Mishawaka game with somewhat greater life and fire. However, they faced a foe in top-notch form and inspired by the knowledge that for the first time they had a chance to "take" the Panthers. Against the kind of skill and fight the Maroons were able to muster, the Panthers did not have enough and fell, 13 to 6. Their followers took some encouragement from the fact that they did show some improvement.

On Friday, September 22, the team got into the winning column by defeating the Goshen Redskins, 12-6.

The following week, September

BAND PLEASURES AT GAMES

The Washington High Band, under its new director Mr. Gnagy, has really been astounding the students. The band first marched at the Central game. It repeated at the Adams game. Their first half-time performance will be at the Riley game this Saturday.

The band has pepped up on the field and has showed new formations. Green lights were used on their hats during the Adams game. The "immaculate" white shoes worn by the members have drawn many admiring glances from the stands and many comments. Everyone hopes that the group continues to do well.

"Why do you wear your socks wrong side out, darling?"

"Well, dear, it was so hot, I just turned the hose on my feet."

29, the team went to Ft. Wayne to defeat North Side by a 6-0 score. Although the games go into the books as wins, the quality of the maneuvering on the field still did not reach the usual Panther heights. In the next game, against their ancient rival Central, playing "fair ball" was not enough and they caved in to the Bears, 19-7.

Up and Down

Junior High Wins, Loses

Washington High School's junior high football squad, earlier labelled the best junior team produced thus far at Washington, has encountered three opponents to date, winning only one game and losing two. Their win came in their opening game against Muessel, the score being 7-0. The lone touchdown came on a forty-two yard jaunt around left end by John Griffin. One Washington TD was nullified because of an off-side. The team dropped their next two tussels, 7-0 to Central and 12-0 to Oliver.

His size fourteen feet should give him a firm foundation on that line. He plays left tackle. There is "The Russian" Czajkowski. He earned the nickname for qualities that should make him an opponent of some toughness. He plays right tackle.
