

WASHINGTON SALUTES SOUTH AMERICA

On October 23, 1963, the Washington High School cafeteria prepared a South American meal consisting of: Beef, S.A. style, (Bife con cebollas), Fried Rice, (arroz), Sliced tomatoes, (Tomalt Saladas), Bread and Butter (Pan y Mantiquilla), fresh fruit (Frutas), and Milk (Leche) to honor our South American neighbors and foreign exchange students during United Nations week.

South America has a population from Spain and Portugal, as well as the Indians who are natives, so its recipes are derived from all three. As a rule South American food is no more highly seasoned than ours, and their cooking has few strange ingredients, just different combinations. Meals in the homes of our southern friends, usually have an appetizer—mostly something spicy. Vegetables are hardly worth mentioning there, if they don't have onion and tomato in them.

Since most South American countries have a coastline, fish is an important food item. But don't let this fool you. South Americans love to barbecue food—sometimes roasting beef in its own hide. Another favorite there is eggs fried many different ways.

The following are descriptions of Ecuador and Brazil, with their food habits and patterns:

EQUADOR

*Located on the equator, and is hot and humid, on the coastline and grows many tropical fruits.

*Quito, the capital, is a fascinating, but rather small city of 100,000 people, and is located only a few miles south of the equator.

*A quick television dinner or a quick sandwich would be unheard of in Ecuador. A dinner usually consists of several courses.

*Lapingachos is a famous egg dish, made of potatoe pancakes with poached eggs.

BRAZIL

*Portugal influenced Brazilian cooking most, while Portuguese is spoken throughout Brazil.

*The national dish of Brazil is black beans, and a variety of meats and spices called Frijoles.

*Brazil also has many tropical fruits, and fish is a popular food item. Bocaehau is a dried codfish dish which is very popular.

*Mandioca flour is used in Brazil. This comes from the cassava plant and its roots are poisonous until roasted. After roasting, it can be grated and used like our cheese on top of other dishes or as an ingredient in other dishes similar to our tapioca.

*Everyone drinks strong, black coffee in Brazil, or cafe con leche (coffee with hot milk).

*The fruit markets of Brazil have marvelous produce. The common fruits are available besides bread, fruit, custard apples and tomarind.

*In Brazil, fresh meat is called carne verde, or green meat, to distinguish it from carne seca, dried meat.

*Brazilians make frequent use of olive oil, dried codfish, garlic, tomatoes, onions, and rice.

*We are familiar with Brazil nuts. The tree is enormous, over 100 feet high and has leaves more than 9 ft. in diameter.

Furthermore, like us, the South Americans love corn on the cob and serve it often, but sometimes in different places, such as casseroles, stews, breads, desserts, and Sopa de Maiz, (a spicy corn pudding serve in place of bread).

We owe one thing to the South Americans, that many do not know about. Potatoes were first grown in South America and then taken to Europe. The plantain—a cross between a white potatoe, sweet potatoe and banana is preferred by many South Americans instead of regular white potatoes.

Green salads as we know them are not served too often, but hearts of palm salad is popular. Also avacado served with a tangy dressing is used a lot.

Cakes and pies are not so common in South America, but puddings, sweet creams, custards, and tortes of fruit are popular desserts.

Lastly, dinner in South America is often served late and a tea time is a necessity every afternoon.

NEW SCIENCE CLUB TAKES WING AT W H S

On October 16 a Science Club was launched here at Washington. After three long years Washington has its Science Club back.

Since 1960 the Science Club had been dropped and remained only as a forgotten organization in the minds of most students and faculty. Yet the spark was still glowing in some, and after hurried planning, a little effort, and misleading announcements, a meeting was scheduled for all students interested in joining.

At this meeting the election of officers was held and the results are as follows: James Hildebrand-President, Suzanne Buechler-vice-president, Carol Grodzicki-secretary, Jo De Van-treasurer. Mr. Hibbs and Mr. Gullifor have agreed to sponsor the club and help get it on its feet.

It has been decided more or less that only junior and seniors will be eligible to join and they must have passing grades in all science courses they are taking at the time. It has also been decided that to be truly interested in a club of this nature perfect attendance is desired. However, this is not always possible, and an absence of three meetings will be allowed before the forfeiting of club membership. Finally, the meetings are to be held on the first Wednesday of every month after school. The actual constitution for the Science Club has not yet been drawn up and it must be understood that all present requirements may be subject to change in the future.

At the present time the officers of the club are engaged in building the framework for the constitution and planning the club's first field trip to Upjohn Laboratories in Kalamazoo which is to be taken sometime in November. It is the hope of the officers to provide two long distant field trips per semester besides others to localities in the South Bend district.

Also, to be decided at the next meeting, is whether or not the club will join Science Clubs of America, a nationwide program for science students. The club also intends to keep its members informed with the latest scholarship grants, science project contests, etc. Guest speakers will be a regular feature included among the club's curriculum.

The officers have extremely strong desires in promoting their club, and in all respects it looks like the Science Club at Washington High is here to stay!

WHS Student Ranks In Scouting

Carl Rybak has attained the highest award a boy scout or explorer may earn—that of an Eagle Scout. Besides being an Eagle Scout, Carl has earned many other awards, among them are: the AD ALTARE DEI, which is the highest Roman Catholic Church award an explorer or Boy Scout may earn; the TULIP TREE TRACE medal, a hiking award; a perfect attendance medal; and service pins denoting the number of years in scouting. He is also a member of the National Honor Camping Society called THE ORDER OF ARROW.

Honors in Scouting

A Merit Badge is awarded for knowledge of skills in specific fields, and ability to pass certain requirements. Carl has the highest amount of merit badges in his Post. He was a delegate to the National Conference at the University of Michigan, and also to the National Order of Arrow Conference at the University of Illinois. At the present, he is the Vice-president of Post 308 and a member of the Tri-Valley Council Cabinet.

Gains in Scouting.

Carl stated, "If you want to learn responsibility, leadership, practical knowledge in your field of interest, and have fun—exploring is for you." Any high school boy between fourteen and eighteen years of age may join Exploring. It is this activity to which strong character, willingness to accept responsibility, and leadership qualities may be attributed. Carl feels, "when the time comes for turning over the reign of rule and government, the explorers will be ready to accept the challenge and responsibility of that office."

OUR MISS VOLL IN EUROPE

Miss Georgina Voll, along with a friend, boarded a Paris-bound airplane last June seventeenth. Paris was only the first stop of a long planned European trip. They stayed in Paris for five days, after which they flew to England.

In England, they were fortunate enough to see the birthday celebration for Queen Elizabeth in Edinburgh. The Queen visits this city annually, and each year a celebration is held during her visit.

Mainly Sightseeing Trip.

While in the British Isles, they attended some lectures at Oxford. Most of the trip was spent in the British Isles, a place where Miss Voll had long planned to see. The main part of the trip was spent in a rented car, seeing the sights of England, Scotland, and Ireland.

Customs are Different.

English food is served very differently from ours. For instance, boiled potatoes are served with everything—even if you order french fries, you get boiled potatoes. Another big difference is the roads; they are very small and crowded. The foreigners were generally very friendly and helpful to Miss Voll and her companion during their visit.

On August twenty-third, Miss Voll was back on American soil. She has hopes of seeing these lands and places again.

ACCEPTING RESPONSIBILITY

At the moment, school and class elections are underway. You may be up for election, an elected representative of your school, your extracurricular organization, or just a voter. Whatever the case are are some points which you should keep in mind.

1. If you are elected an official-president, vice-president —make it your business to know what's going on in all departments of your organization.
2. If you are a delegate on some committee, keep tab on that committee.
3. If you are on a committee, Speak up.
4. If you are merely a regular member of the student body of a school organization take a vital interest in the work of the group.
5. When voting, vote for the most competent candidate, the most popular.

Your school days should prepare you for life in many ways. Developing an active interest in student affairs is one of the best preparations for civic and patriotic interests in the future.

CHEERS FOR W.H.S.!

On October 7, nearly 150 students signed up to try out for cheerleading, which is sponsored by Miss Moran. Practice sessions began on October 9, and will continue for several weeks, practicing on Monday and Wednesday. The students were shown various exercises that should be kept up each day to develop athletic skills. After several weeks, cutting sessions will start. There will be three eliminations before the finalists are chosen.

One thing that Miss Moran especially stressed is the fact that no one should become discouraged if they cannot keep up with the others during the first few practice sessions.

So, cheer up and do your best. Your persistence may be rewarded!!!

Language Laboratory

It's coming and 33% of the student body is waiting for it! We are referring to the Language Lab, which is near completion. This Lab, located in the seven hundred hall, room 729, will be used by most foreign language classes at least one half-hour a week.

There are 35 individual pupil stations. Each student will have his own ear phones and cartridge for tapes. There are several ways in which to use this very expensive equipment. The student may just use his own tape, listen to a recording, or talk into a microphone and have it played back so that he can hear his own voice. Each station has its own dials for erasing, stopping, repeating, and volume.

There will be no confusion because the students will not be assigned to the lab. The teachers will each have their own schedules and inform their pupils of it.

Each student will have complete privacy. There are reasonably high walls on each side which are acoustic. This lab is designed as a supplement to classroom teaching.

New Officers for The Math Club

The Math Club, under the direction of Mr. Henriotte, has recently elected officers. They are: President, Randy Warniers; Vice-President, Tom McGee; Secretary-Treas., Richard Hojnacki, and Social Chairman Terry Marshall.

Students are eligible to join if they are presently enrolled in Plane Geometry or higher math courses.

The club carries on many social functions during the year. The members sponsor dances, field trips, and are entertained throughout the year by guest speakers. All Math students meeting the qualifications are cordially asked to attend the next meeting.

P.T.A. Tours Russia

Are you interested in the Soviet Union? If so, the P.T.A. meeting held October 15th at 7:30 P.M. would have interested you. Mr. Hoffman gave the members a tour of Russia through the color slides he took during his visit this summer. He explained each slide and later had a question and answer period. Previous to the tour the members were entertained by musical selections, a trumpet solo and a sax quartet, by band members.

Halloween decorations were carried out, and coffee, donuts and candy were served.

CLUBS AT W. H. S.

French Club

The recently organized French Club held its first formal session October 30.

Monsieur Chataigner, a professor from Notre Dame, showed the group two films concerning life in France. Future activities concern music, films and correspondence.

The officers of the club were announced. President-Donna Plencner, Vice President-Linda Van Paris, Secretary-Barbara Hudson, Treasurer-Becky Pacay.

Spanish Club

Recently, the Spanish Club, sponsored by Mr. Guin, and Miss Baer, took a trip through Spain via Miss Baer's color slides. The students were able to see such things as, Franco's memorial to the soldiers of Spain's Civil War, Franco's palace, and many monuments and statues throughout Spain. The most exciting slides, however, were the ones on a bullfight. Miss Baer also spoke to the group about the people of Spain, their customs, and their economy.

F. T. A.

The Washington Chapter of the Future Teachers of America held a formal induction of officers and members on October 3, in the Cafeteria. Refreshments were served after a brief business meeting.

Officers for the 1963-64 school year are: President — Connie Otto, Vice-President — Howard Rzezewski, Secretary — Joan Schadenfroth, Treasurer — Lenna Beaton, Membership — Sue Waslicki, Reporter and Publicity Chairman — Raymonde Schultz.

The Health Club

At the October 15th meeting of the Health Careers Club, two W.H.S. juniors gave brief speeches about their duties at two of our local hospitals.

Nancy Stafford told of her experiences as a Candy Stripper at Memorial Hospital. The Gray Lady at St. Joseph Hospital is Nancy Marshall. These jobs are both granted on a volunteer basis. The girls discussed their responsibilities and assignments, they also encouraged others to enroll in this program.

Home Economics Club

The first meeting of the Home Economics Club was successful. Twenty more girls than last year attended. The officers chosen were: Carol Frazier - President; Nancy Boyer - Vice - President; Cindy Kaznia - secretary; and Marlene Andrysiack - Treasurer.

Sponsoring the club again this year is Miss Pfaff, head of the Home Economics department.

Saturday, September 28th, the club served for the Alumni banquet at school. The chairman of the serving committee was Theresa Jagodzinski.

In the weeks to come the club will try to sponsor a dance and organize a bake sale. They will construct aprons.

The club provides fun and entertainment for future homemakers. The meetings are held every other Tuesday. All girls who are interested in homemaking are welcome to join.

Booster Club

The Booster Club is busy again! Besides backing our football team by getting posters up all over the school, the Boosters' are planning on selling pins which may be worn for any sport, any season. Miss Baer is the club's sponsor and the officers are: Barb Schrader, President; Donna Plencner, Vice - President; Sharon Pejza, Secretary; Pat VanAutreve, Treasurer; Justine Wrobel, Social Chairman; and Eileen Quinn, Sergeant-at-Arms.

DEAR EDITOR:

"Do We Belong"

All the upper classmen are telling us Freshmen "come on, get on the ball, yell as loud as you can. If you don't come to the football game, you punky Freshmen have had it! etc." Yet you call us names and do things to embarrass us. What are we supposed to do? We don't want to come to the games, dances, or try out for plays, because we don't feel as if we belonged. When people ask us "Are you from Washington?" what should we say? Now, here is the big question. Do we belong, or don't we?

Signed,

UNWANTED

Dear unwanted,

No, you don't belong; at least not yet. To become a member of W.H.S., you must first endure the traditional year of suffering, namecalling, and teasing, which is really all in fun. If you manage to last your freshman year, you will become a full-fledged member. This entitles you to a three-year period for teasing any incoming freshman classes. Cheer up! You'll be a Sophomore next year. After all, I was a Frosh once, too!

EDITOR

At the recent fine arts assembly our student body was privileged to attend, I was greatly disturbed at the behavior of some of our students. I realize that we don't all appreciate or enjoy this type of music but those who don't should keep quiet so the others can hear. Dr. Dardorff, the head of South Bend Schools' music department, was present at this program and I'm sure that he took home a warped impression of the type of music our students enjoy, all because of a few who couldn't keep quiet. Let's not let this happen again!!

Signed,
STUDENT

CONDUCT

Conduct is an important part of our lives. It goes with us wherever we go. At church, home, parties and at school. School, you might say, is a trial run before we are out in the world on our own. You should learn how to conduct yourself at pep sessions, assemblies, and in the halls. If you are polite and courteous in school, then, perhaps your habits will carry over and be useful to you in the adult world. Remember, the way you act in school now, is the way you will act as a citizen later in life.

Fact and Fancy

Did you know —

—Pidgen English, a type of colloquial shorthand, is one of the world's most useful and most universal languages.

—the Black Widow is no longer considered the world's deadliest spider. The common brown household spider has been found to be much more dangerous!

—Until 1830, South Bend was called Southold.

—Mr. Klaybor and Mr. Claus are full-fledged members of Uncle Mike's Fun Club.

—the phrase I love you in French is "je vous aime," and in Spanish it is "Amor Por Tu."

—the Aurora Borealis or the "Northern Lights" appeared in the Northern sky of South Bend on September 22.

—Miss Baer has an identical twin sister who teaches at Studebaker School.

—the Study of Chemistry sprang from a science called alchemy.

—a patient who has had his voicebox removed can learn to speak again by a controlled breathing process called "esophageal speech."

—the Russian have a twelve-letter word expressing the salutation "Hi!"

—Mr. Toth is wearing contact lenses and has an avid interest in knitting.

—the first land animal may have been either a sea scorpion or a lungfish.

—One of our English teachers, Mrs. Neimeyer, once taught school in Germany.

—On the 22nd of September, the earth once again passed through the autumnal equinox causing a day and night of equal length.

—the French for "be quiet!" is Tesseg-vous.

—Miss Reynolds, a business teacher here at W.H.S. was once a WAC in the Phillippine Islands.

—Mr. Janowiak has a fool-proof solution to our lunch hour problems.

—Pres. Kennedy smokes cigars and a pipe.

—Mr. Fitz Henry was musical director for the summer production of "Fantisticks."

—Sigmund Freud was born in Freiborg, Germany on May 6, 1856.

—A picture can be developed in approx. 1½ minutes.

—Halloween masks first originated in the days of Shakespeare. They were used to ward off witches and spirits.

IN MY OPINION

Following National Newspaper Week, THE HATCHET took a survey of student opinions on the quality of a high school newspaper.

Below are their reactions to this question:

What do you expect from a High School Newspaper?

Sharon Ferraro: It should include a certain amount of serious and humorous thoughts. Things of interest to the student body such as news, about sports, clubs, events, and all current gossip.

Gwen Plummer: I expect information or current events that pertain to school, and a column dealing with the social activities of the school.

Sara Sue Bryant: I think a school paper should contain up-to-date information on the school's activities and a schedule of important events to come.

Joanne Stroup: I believe all the latest news and information pertaining to the students should be included in a newspaper. Not only should it be facts, but also things in which the kids are interested.

Doug Copelin: I think a school newspaper should have everything that can be expected of a high school newspaper. There is one thing needed, bring Dix and Jinx back! That's half of the paper.

Pat Easterday: The paper should be out once a week instead of every other week. It would bring out more facts which we don't know of.

Mack Syawork: It should contain a variety of humor and seriousness.

Henry Hoy: The paper should tell what is happening around the school.

Lynn Harden: It should include the news, a little humor, information from around town concerning dances for teenagers.

Mike Dawson: It should be mixed news, not only serious but humorous also.

Bonnie Blankert: Tell about the latest social news, and a lot of jokes.

How about you, do you expect too much or too little from your high school paper? Are you helping to up-grade it or are you complaining when others are striving for improvement? Don't fight against your high school, whether it be in sports or thru the newspaper — fight for it!

D.C.E. PERSONALITY

Seventeen-year-old Delvin Plonka is our D.C.E. personality for this issue of the Hatchet. Del has been employed at the Balaban's Shop and Job Welding, 1830 S. Oliver Street, for a year and seven months. He enjoys his work as a welder's helper and has gained the trust of his employer, Milan Balaban, to the point that he is sometimes given control of the entire shop.

Del's work consists of welding, steam cleaning and other jobs within the shop. He works with various metals including stainless steel, brass and aluminum. The work he does is sometimes hazardous in that when welding there is a danger of burns or scrapes. However, safety measures are provided in the form of protective helmets and gloves. The Balaban Shop and Job Welding Company does work for both individuals and companies so Del's work is a service to many.

After graduating from Washington, Del plans to go on as a welder while he attends college, studying to be a metallurgist. Now he is studying chemistry and mathematics which prove to be helpful in his work. He chose this occupation because it requires a skillful worker which initiates a pride in his work. He chose it also because this field provides many opportunities and is open for many people.

FASHION WISE

Are you fashion wise? Do you know and wear the latest colors, clothes and hair styles? If not, here's a fashion review for you; girls and boys!

For you girls who are tired of the "same old me" look, or those of you who would like a picture of the whole new look for fall, here's what's "in"; Hot off the fashion wire; pastels pink, blue, green, each with just a tinge of gray are in for fall . . . culottes are cuter than ever . . . long, cuffed pants are news . . . mohair sweaters and sweater dresses are making the scene . . . while the shift is here to stay . . . jumpers are back in high style . . . waistlines go up to empire or down below the waistline, seldom in between. . . a fake hairpiece (you can purchase at the local 5 & 10), twisted or piled high for evening is sensational . . . lastly, pastel shades for lips and fingernails are a must.

You cool cats pay attention, here's what is in store for you; colors! . . . no cuff pants . . . polka dots, checks, and plaids . . . crew socks are the rage . . . pointed toes are in again . . . zipper-cuffed pants . . . mohair sweaters and bulky knits . . . and finally, long, bushy hair, half in the face.

TALENT IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Right now before your very eyes, two very talented girls are walking about the halls and probably don't even realize it!

The two girls having this talent are Kathy Stickly and Linda Petitgue. Both girls are quite skilled in the fields of tap dancing and aerobatics. Another thing they have in common is the fact that they are first cousins.

The girls began tap dancing at the age of six and are still taking lessons. They started acrobat at the age of nine but quit at the age of fourteen because they no longer had time for both. Linda stated that aside from being a good physical form of exercise it has helped them both to become coordinated.

They have gained more than expected from tap and acrobat. Kathy said that due to their many performances in front of large crowds, they have become less frightened and more confident to perform in front of people. They have danced at such places as Randall's Inn, Purdue University, Carriage House, St. Mary's Little Theater and many other places.

All of us should be very proud to have these girls at our school. Our hats are off to Kathy and Linda!

ORCHESTRA NOTES

The Washington High School Orchestra has a wide variety of activities for its members. Under the direction of Mr. Jay Miller, the group plans to participate in many activities. Among them are the North-Central program, and the All-City music program. A trip to Chicago will highlight the year for the orchestra members.

The members of the Orchestra are: John Butler, violin; Greig Greci, violin; Pat Hunter, violin; Lorrie Link, cello; Carol Perch, violin; Paul Smogor, violin; Charles Vandermaker, violin; Alan Walsh, viola; Glenn Skorbeck, viola; Dennis Wilkeson, bass; Larry Yuhaser, cello; and Margaret Lukens, piano.

FUTURE "ANGELS OF MERCY" GIVEN TEA

On a recent Friday, the Future Nurses of America from all over Northern Indiana were given a tea and tour of Memorial Hospital. They were shown where the nurses work and live. Many were inspired by the speech that followed the tour and realized that they had picked the right foundation on which to build their future. Their goal — To be the future "Angels of Mercy" to others.

W.H.S CUSTODIANS

The students of Washington High School will see a new face among the custodian family. He is Mr. Leo Lyczynski, a transfer from Woodrow Wilson. All Washington students say welcome!

Most of the students are acquainted with the day shift who are Vaughn Graf, Norbert Ziolkowski, and John Joosens. But the students should be familiar at least with the names of the men on the night shift, who carry on after hours. These men are Leo Milewski, Fred Coats, Howard Hughes, Ed Gapinski and Benedict Wasikowski. We are grateful also to Bern Witczak and Victor Pine, our two engineers who regulate heat and air conditioning.

Mrs. June Stump completes our staff of custodians. With their combined efforts our school can be the neatest in South Bend.

But what about the students? It is also up to them. Mr. Graf has asked us to ask you to keep your feet off the walls, take all your rubbish out of the lockers, keep from sliding down the halls, use trash containers and above all keep your cafeteria clean. If we follow these simple rules we can have a beautiful school.

YOUR FAULT

Sensitive? Ha! 'Tis the understatement of the year.

But sit my dear,
And you shall hear,
About your one main fault.

Dear, you feel as though
The world is here,
To cause you harm,
To bring you fear,
To do you wrong,
To put you on the spot incessantly.

To tell you this,
And tell you that,
And make you feel you can't turn your back.
To make you want,
And then retract
Your every desire.

But my dear you must agree,
This world is not as you believe.
This world needs you to survive,
And I need you to fill my life.

Dorothy Barnes

HATCHET DANCE

On October 25, the HATCHET sponsored their annual school dance. The theme of the Halloween dance was "The Goblin Hop", featuring the Bountymen. Committee chairmen for the dance were: Kathy Stickly, Publicity; Darlene Czarnecki, Band; Drew Leach, Decoration, and Laura Janicki, Admissions.

Don't push a freshman down the stairs,
Or kick his teeth in unawares,
Or with a hammer bash his brain —
We want to keep our building clean!

Harriers Take Second In City Meet

The Washington High School cross country team fell for the first time against the John Adams Eagles, as they were beaten by a five point margin in the City Meet, held at Washington, in October. In the meet however, the Panthers managed to capture second place, by whipping Riley and Central.

In the Sectional meet held at LaPorte on October 18, Mike Fye, a junior, turned in a second place position for the Panthers, which qualified him in the Regionals which were held on October 26.

Season Ends.

The season finally ended for the Panthers, as they ran their last meet at the LaPorte Invitational, in which 18 of the top schools in the state participated.

The Panthers, throughout the year, proved to have a very successful season ending up in the win column, and being one of the top contenders in the city.

The student body wishes to express congratulations to Mr. Gary Wegenke for a fine coaching job.

"A Good Time Was Had by All"

On October 18th from 7:30 to 10:00 P.M. our cafeteria was filled with parents instead of students. This was the evening of the P.T.A.'s card party. Cake and coffee was served and a variety of card games were played.

Around 9:00 a style show was put on, of Benton's new fall hats. The hats were modeled by both the mothers and students of Washington. At the close of the style show door prizes were handed out and the evening came to an end.

The prizes and cakes were donated by the mothers. Mr. Fitzhenry played organ selec-

GOSHEN BIDS TO UPSET PANTHERS

Coach Joe Springer's Goshen Redskins have a 1-6 record, but still rate as a rough team.

They are led by quarterback Gary Claybaugh, who passes often, and hits his target 50 per-cent of the time.

Fullback Dan Chiddister is their bread-and-butter man, and leads them in rushing.

Mike Yoder is a halfback who can run or catch passes with equal skill. He is their leading scorer. His punting average is 38 yards.

Their lineup: LE-Schelle, LT-Ditmars, LG-Stark, C-Bargnanham, RG-Davis, RT-Sherek, RE-Peterson, QB-Claybaugh, HB-Yoder, HB-D. Miller and FB-Chiddister.

Y-TEENS INITIATION

On October 21st, from 7:00 to 9:00 P.M. the Y Teens held their second meeting. This was the night put aside for initiation. The new members were picked at random to participate in the various initiations. After the initiations cookies and punch were served, and the meeting was adjourned.

The Y Teen sponsor is Miss Louise Hunsberger and officers are: President-Diane De Wells; Vice-President-Linda Sumpter; Secretary-Mary Jane Seanor; Treasurer-Donna-Ros-sow; Social-Linda Sumpter, and Program-Lenna Beaton.

tions throughout the evening. A parent was quoted as saying "A good time was had by all."

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

On October 23, 1963 Robert Johnson, the president, called the junior class meeting to order.

The secretary, Donna Ros-sow, read the minutes of the last meeting. Donna Thompson gave the treasurer's report.

The junior class party will be held on November 16 from 8 P.M. to 11 P.M. A band will be available. Admission will be 75 cents per couple and 50 cents per person.

The class will sell candies at $1.50 a box before the holidays.
