Boy's Ushers Club Is On The Go!

The Boy's Ushers Club, always on the go, is preparing again for a big job. The boys are all awaiting the sectionals and are ready to do a good job with their guests, the ushers from the other schools.

The club just recently has chosen it's top twenty boys who had the greatest number of points. This year has been a busy one including the holiday tourney, county tourney, and the Globe Trotters. The last job planned for his semester is going to be the All-City Music Festival held in May.

ROZMARYNOWSKI TO STATE FINALS

Rich Rozmarynowski, 154 lbs. senior, has advanced to the championship, to be held on Saturday, February 23, in Southport. Rich gained this position by placing first in the regionals at Lafayette, February 16. In winning his 18th match of the season, Rich amassed nine points over his Mishawaka opponent's three; Rich has been beaten twice this year, both defeats are to Mishawakan Shaffer, whom Rich conquered in Lafayette.

Financial Arrangements and Tickets. Tickets will be issued by noon on Thursday, February 21, 1963, at the Washington High School office. Schools are asked to pay for their tickets at the time they are issued. The price is $1 per ticket per day. Checks should be drawn to Washington High School.

Admission to the Washington Building. Doors will be opened one hour before the beginning of the first game of each session. This means 12:15 and 6:00 on Wednesday and Thursday and 11:30 and 7:15 on Saturay. Doors near auditorium will be open.

Patrons are urged to check wraps since the sessions are long and the bleachers will be crowded. The checking charge is 10c. We shall try very hard to make the service good. There will be three check rooms open.

Patrons should not expect to remain in the building between sessions. It will be necessary to clear and clean the buildng immediately after each session.

comers will be held in the corridos until time-out periods. A blast of the timer's horn will be given to recall spectators 5 minutes before play begins for first and second halves.

- 6. Mechanica noise makers will not be permitted in the gymnasium. Crepe paper shakers will be permitted so long as they are not attached to sticks. Banners, mascots, confetti, ballons, and similar baggage will be forbidden.
- Floor bleachers are for stu-7. dents only. Adult tickets are in sections 1-6. Adults reach their seats via North & South corridors. Students reach theirs via the doors at the west end of the gym. Neither adults nor students may pass from the floor bleacher area to the bleacher decks in either direction. Students who wish to leave their seats in the floor bleachers at the halves or between games are asked to move to the east end of the playing floor (opposite the score board with the players' names) and depart over the stairs to the bleacher decks. This provides for an easier, one-way traffic flow.
- 8. People who lose their tickets will not be admitted. Ask students to write their names, addresses, telephone numbers, and their school's name on the backs of their tickets. If lost tickets are turned in to the Washington office, we will make an effort to return them to their owners.

WASHINGTON PREPARES FOR 1963 SECTIONALS

Hoosier hysteria is once again upon the State of Indiana, as 639 teams ready themselves for the State tournament to crown Indiana's No. 1 basketball team. The hysteria is also very evident in the South Bend area, where thirteen squads will participate at Washington High School, February 27-28 and March 2 for the South Bend Sectional Crown.

The South Bend field is once again leaded by perenial favorite CENTRAL. The Bears, No. 2 in the State ranking, again play the role as the powerhouse; the favorite; the team to beat or however you want to put it, but they're still favored to win the 1963 tourney. Holding a 17-2 record. Central is led by Mike Warren, Mike Otolski and 6'10" DeWitt Menyard. Other city foes are RILEY 7-12, ADAMS 10-9, ST. JOSEPH 13-6, a possible tourney threat with a fine total, and WASHING-TON'S unpredictables. MISH. 9-10 with the cities leading leading scorer, Dick Witkowski, and a 50-50 record is also entered in the thirteen team field.

Heading the list of county opponents are N.C. (11-7) our neighbors to the west LAKE-VILLE (9-10) and the county's second highest scorer, Jack Edison. Other county entries are NORTH LIBERTY (4-15) MADISON (11-9) WALKER-TON (9-9), and Washington's regular season opponent, WASH.-CLAY (5-13).

This year there's a special bit of excitement of Washington, even though the Panther record doesn't call for anything special. In the past, Washington has usually been the tourney's darkhorse, simply because their record was 1st six years, the Panther records were nothing to boast about, but in everyone of those years Washington made it into the Saturday semi-finals, only to be beaten by a slim margin. Last year W.H.S. lost to Adams by two points. This season the Panthers own victories over five of the Sectional participants (including Central) and have lost to only two members of the thirteen, St. Joe in overtime and Central by eight points. So, as ly, program, and play.

you can see Washington, with Ben Lindsey, Recie Bethel and Bob Bloss leading the assault, are no longer darkhorses, but possible Sectional Champions!

The drawings for the tourney and who-plays-who, took place Wednesday, February 20. Just a little something more: the last Sectional won by Washngton was 26 years ago in 1937, and this sports writer's predictions is WASH-INGTON as Socth Bend's Sectional Champs of 1963!

Announcement from Theater Rules Comm.

The Student Council of Washington High School has recently organized a Theater Rules committee which deals with the principles of auditorium behavior.

This committee, under the direction of Pat Piechoski, is striving to achieve a code of theatrical manners from which the entire school may benefit.

Other members of this committee includes Mike Klaybor, Barb Jaronik, Larry Jarze, Joyce Johnson, Mary Ellen Zurawski and Ron Cherry.

The committee members have decided to divide the contest of auditorium behavior into five general subdivisions:

1. Respect to the performer and to the fellow audience ranks first and foremost in every society.

2. Undivided attention must exist during every performance.

3. A reasonable amount of silence and an absence of any rowdiness is essential to the success of any program or play.

4. Promptness of arrival a little above average. In the at every assembly is also necessary to the success of that program. 5. There should be no unnecessary littering of the auditorium. The accomplishments of this newly-organized Theater-Rules committee will apply to all future programs held in the auditorium. All Washington students are asked to co-operate with the general principles of auditoriums behavior at every Washington assemb-

"DO UNTO OTHERS"

I'm sure everyone has heard at some time or another "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." This is the foundation for good citizenship. Is this the way we feel at Washington?

The idea here is not the loss of paper or even the Latin notes. The act of vandalism was poor citizenship on the part of a Washington student. It speaks poorly of our school and of the homes that we come from. Perhaps a recollection of "Do unto others" would serve to better us all.

PLAN AHEAD

of 41 poi Students are planning schedules for the entire year. This averaged requires more care than previously particularly when one semester courses such as health, geography, home management against and nutrition are envolved. It also requires greater care by the student to plan for one semester since he is expected to carry the courses which he has elected for the entire year. Actually this works to the advantage of the student who has the entire year in which to complete the course rather than be forced so strongly to complete one half year in a semester. This is not a new policy, but a tightening up of a previous one.

Concessioners Busy at Sectional

from t man. 4. Fle Lk 5 Th

This basketball season has been a good preview to the sectionals for the concession stand workers. Each worker will have to rely on his past experience and double his speed to serve the gigantic crowd that the sectionals always draw.

Each concession stand is run by an organization for a small profit for their treasury. Christine Zalewski, Eileen Quinn, Pat VanAutreve, and Jim Howard work in the Booster Club stand. Howard Rzeszewski, Michael Celichowski, and Margaret Lukas work in the sophomore class stand. Carol Bauch, Kathy Badowski, Arthur Jaronik, and Wanda Slaby operate the student council stand. Kathy Thau, Willie Coats, Ron Johnson, Douglas Smith, and Carl Feyos work in the Glee Club Carolyn Berus and stand. Marilyn McElhaney operate the popcorn machine, assisted by Laura Patterson. The workers will be looking forward to your patronage.

Playboys Are Intermural Champs

The Playboys are the 1962-63 Washington High School Intramural basketball champions. The senior dominated club, led by Alfred Carothers, Decatur Smith, and Jim Kazmierczak, swept through the season with a record of seven wins and no defeats.

In the annual tourney, the Playboys kept their winning ways with a close 49-43 win over the Astronauts. In other games, Jim Dembinski, captain of his team, led his team as he should with 22 points in a 41-28 victory over the Lakers. In other games, the All Stars and the Java Men easily disposed of their opponents; The Java Men winning by a 39-27 score and the All Stars defeating the Throttle Jockeys 46-33. Incidently, the victory by the Java Men was their first of the year.

WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL HATCHET

THE HATCHET

In the year 1930 John A. Kalbfleisch, school executive and educator, embraced the new idea of accelerated courses in engineering. To implement his idea, he organized Indiana Technical College. He served as the college's first president. The school had a strong appeal for students who lacked the time and money for a traditional four-year engineering course.

Locating the college in Fort Wayne, Indiana, proved to be a fortunate decision. Fort Wayne is one of the largest industrial centers in Indiana where manufacturers and wholesalers serve approximately twenty-five million people within a three hundred mile radius. It is one of the richest industrial and agricultural regions in the United States. Fort Wayne provides an opportunity for close working relations with industries that offer: 1. inspection trips that keep students abreast of progressive engineering methods. 2. Parttime work for students while in school, and 3. full-time work upon graduation.

In August of 1948, Indiana Technical College was reorganized as a nonprofit institution, or in other words, as an endowed college. This marked another milestone in the growth and development of the educational advantages offered by the school. New courses, new classrooms, new equipment and new laboratories were added. And then, in the summer of 1957, Indiana Technical College took its largest and most significant step. It moved to a new campus with 20 acres and 22 buildings. Indiana Tech, purchased the campus from the former Concordina Junior College.

To be admitted to Indiana Technical College, a student must have graduated from a recognized high school with satisfactory grades. An applicant who ranks in the lower half of his graduating class will be admitted only when the College is satisfied that he has the ability to do satisfactory college work. In some cases special examinations will be required. Entrance requirements for full standing in the freshman class include one and one-half units in high school algebra, one unit in plain geometry, one unit in chemistry, and unit in physics.

WASHINGTON GRAPPLERS SHO FINISH THIRD IN GRUNT AND GROAN

The 1962-63 wrestling season has been completed with the Washington grapplers finishng up with a 4 win, 7 loss, 1 draw record to go with an outstandng third place windup in the Eastern Northern Indiana High School Conference. The squad, led by Rich Rozmarynowski, 154 lbs.senior and 127 lbs. sophomore Dave Sims, had a very rewarding season, considering the fact that four lettermen were all first year coach Bob Million had to build around. Rozmarynowski and Sims were two of the returnees and Jim Garcia 133 lbs. senior, and Bill Ingle, 145 lbs. senior were the others .

In the regular dual meet season, the Panther's own victories were over Washington Clay, Penn, Elkhart and an overwhelming 44-0 masacuring of Howe Military. The musclemen salvaged a draw over Lafayette Jeff, a down state powerhouse. Two of the defeats suffered by the Panthers, were to the Conference's finest, Central and Riley. The W.H.S. men fell to second place Riley by a 27-17 count. and dropped a 24-21 decision over first place Central.

In the big meets the squad was equally as good. A third in the Conference finals was the Panthers best showing while a fourth in the sectionals was almost as noticeable.

The wrestling program has eleven weight divisions and this years cast of wrestlers really filled the bill capably. Starting at 95 lbs. all the way to 250 lbs. the Panthers were well represented. Sophomore Doug Harris controlled the 95 lbs. class and two underclassmen, junior, Ed Thomas and sophomore John Jones, filled the heavyweight division. In between these two classes the Panthers were equally as powerful. Doug Harris was followed by this year's freshmen grappler, Mike Klaybor at 103 lbs., Jim Coleman, a fine 112 lbs. junior was next, with Art Jones, 120 lbs. competitor following. The 127 lbs. division was held by sophomore Dave Sims. Dave was the best Washington offered this year and he held his title

Senior, Jim Garcia participated in the 133 lbs. class, and was followed by Dave Smith at 138 lbs. The 145 lbs. spot was held by senior Bill Ingle, who defended his part well, compiling a fine 14-6 over-all record. Rich Rozmarynowski was Washington's weapon in the 154 lbs. class. Rich compiled a highly noticeable 17-2 won-lost total and was followed by brother, Stan. This Rozmarynowski was also a real hustler only in the 165 lbs. division. Senior Jim Pomush battled opponents in the 180 lb. match and the heavyweights concluded the program.

Dave Sims, Rich Rozymarynowski, Bill Ingle and Ed Thomas were Washington's powers in the ENIHSC meet, collecting three firsts and a second, respectively. Rozmarynowski, Rich, and Sims our

B-Basketeers Have Outstanding Record

Under the able coaching of Mr. Lewandowski, the B-basketball team has romped to a fantastic conference record of Their 7 wins and no losses. The season record is 16-2. cagers were defeated only by Central, 36-33 in the final game of the Holiday Tourney, and Benton Harbor, 57-68. At present the Benton Harbor Bteam is still undefeated.

The B cagers have maintained a average game total of 41 points. Opponents have averaged only 32.7 points against Coach Lewandowski's fine defensive squad. Only 2 teams, St. Joe (43) and Benton Harbor (68) have scored more than 40 points against The fine the round ballers. defensive unit responsible for this record has often been led by Bob Johnson and Fermon Thomas.

Individual statistics are as follows:

1. Scoring leaders: Tom Majewski, Floyd Kerr.

1. Best free throw percentage: Bob Johnson-76%. 3 Best shooting percentage from the field: Wes Chapman.

4. Leading in rebounds: Floyd Kerr, Tom Majewski, Lloyd Kerr.

5. Most steals: Fermon Thomas.

6. Team shooting percentage: 39%.

Scholastically the B cagers bring honors to W.H.S. athletics. For the first semester no team member received an F. The team scholastic average is 2.58.

Exceptionally good rebounding, a strong desire for defense, good shooting and a crew of capable replacements have brought W.S.H. one of its finest B-team records yet. The cagers have been assisted this season by Warren Major, team statistician, and Frank Skubis, Manager.

WASHINGTON IN BRIEF

In 1922 the first permanent building to house Washington School was built at 1534 W. Sample St. Prior to this time there were a few portable buildings on the Sample St. acreage that had been used as From 1922 school buildings. until 1925 Washington School was an elementary school only. In 1926 a 9th grade was added, in 1935 the tenth grade was added and in 1938 Washington held its first annual commencement. 1953 was the last year that Washington maintained a 12 grade educational system. In 1954 an overflow 8th grade class was held and since 1955 Washington has been strictly a high school. On February 1, 1960, Washington High School students left their 38 year old home on West Sample Street to move to a brand new 4 million dollar building at 4747 W. Washington Ave. The old Washington building is now the Lulu V. Cline School and the new Washington building is considered home by all of its students. Among the modern features of the new school are an air conditioning system, a 7 lane pool with a bleacher capacity of 500, an auditorium which is a scale replica of the St. Mary's O'Laughlin Auditorium and a gym which housed the 1962 sectional basketball tourney.

Washington High School participates in all major high school sports and many minor sports. In the entire history of the school the Panthers have had only 1 losing football season and for the 3rd year in a row the Panthers have captured an upper berth in the final conference tally. On the other side of the scoreboard, Washington's many basketball teams have won only one sectional tournament.

In 1948 the total enrollment of Washington dropped to 590 and some thought was given to closing the school and distributing the students among the area schools. Since that time, however, the enrollment has increased steadily. School reorganization has included Warren and German townships in the Washington district. Washington enrollment is presently 1808 and increasing at the rate of 400 students per school year. The South Bend Community School Corporation has recently announced that in the very near future there will be an addition of approximately 16 rooms to the school. The Washington faculty headed by Mr. John McNamara, Principal, and Mr. Pilarski, assistant principal, now numbers 72. Washington students are very proud of their school building, their faculty, their athletic teams and their fellow students. Every June a Washington graduating class carries with them the Washington pledge that as citizens of the United States and students of Washington High School they will continue marching "Ever Onward."
