- WASHINGTON PANTHERS -

CLASS OF 1995

Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they have their story.

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are aggravation to the SPRIT. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.

Keep interested in your career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is. Many persons strive for high ideals, and everywhere life is full of heroism.

Be Yourself

Especially, do not imitate affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment, it is perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of the sprit to shield you in sudden misfortune. Do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness.

Beyond a wholesome discipline; be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here.

*Whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore, be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its shame, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be Careful.

STRIVE TO BE HAPPY!!!!!!

It's So Hard To Say Goodbye

To the Class of 1995,

I congratulate you on the fine job you have done during the time you have attended Washington High School. Each year the leadership of the senior class is essential for a high school to be successful.

The many contributions to Washington High School by the senior class, are greatly appreciated. A special thanks to the class officers, advisory board members, and to each senior who has successfully carried off each major class event. Your positive efforts have assisted our high school to maintain a positive image in our community.

We hope that through our curriculum and extracurricular programs you have been able to satisfy your personal needs and interests. Each of you need to play a positive role in today's demanding society.

As you review your high school experience, only you can determine if you have been successful in reaching your goals and accomplishments. The school and your parents can only provide you with love, guidance, and assistance; you have to assume your own destiny.

Now is the time for each of you to examine what you have accomplished, what you hope to accomplish, and how you will go about living your adult life. Your answers to these questions will play a large part in the quality of life you live.

I would like to wish each of you a happy, healthy, and successful life. I have enjoyed working with the Class of 1995.

Ever Onward,
David L. Kaser, Principal

To the Class of '95,

You are now approaching the time of your life for which you have been preparing and planning over the course of the past four years. It seems like only yesterday that you entered these halls for the first time as members of the Washington High School class of 95.

You have demonstrated strong leadership and school spirit throughout your high school careers. As freshmen, you won 1st place for gym decorations. You also began the four year tradition of selling valentine flowers and balloons- the first of many fund raising activities. During your sophomore year, you took first place honors for hall decorations, gym decorations and spirit! As juniors, you worked especially hard to present the Junior-Senior prom, a night that most of you will never forget. You maintained you school spirit during the summer by being the first class from WHS to enter a float in the Ethnic Festival Parade. You took home the "All School Champion" trophy for all of your hard work. As Seniors, you have remained leaders. You won first place for your homecoming float. Collecting money for the Oklahoma Disaster Relief Fund showed others what caring individuals you are. Plans are presently being made for your second entry in the Ethnic Festival Parade this summer.

You have journeyed down many different roads over the course of the past four years but all striving to meet at that one common destination-graduation.

We hope that you will reflect back on your high school years with many fond memories. We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for all of your hard work and dedication. We have been very proud to have been the sponsors of the Class of 95.

May you fulfill your dreams and achieve the goals that you have set for yourself. We wish you all of life's best.

Ever Onward!
Mrs. Krol & Mrs. Pellico

Dear Class of 1995,

Soon we will don our green and white caps and gowns, and we will celebrate an end of four years of hard work while looking on to our bright futures. On June 11, 1995 we will bring our tassels to our right side, we will sing our "Alma Mater," and receive our diplomas. We will do all of this as a class, as Panthers. However, our accomplishments have been as individuals. No one was their when we were taking our finals, we did that on our own. We've put in the many hours to become success stories. Therefore, don't let the "real world" scare you. You will do wonderful, with hard work you will continue to achieve as an individual.

However, we must not fail to recognize our support systems. Our families, teachers, and friends have helped us through some tough times. They have given us our memories and for that we thank them!

I wish all of you luck for the future, and remember, when hard times come rely on your inner strength and your support systems, I know you'll make it through!

*Ever Onward,
Holly Osowski, Class Valedictorian*

Fellow Seniors,

We are all becoming anxious as the end of the year and graduation approaches. We are excited about starting a new phase of our lives. It may be going to college, moving away from home, or starting a career. Each one of us has our own aspirations for the future. And the paths we take will lead our class in many different directions.

Yet, as we look ahead towards our future, we must not forget our common past. We are the Class of 1995. Our teachers friends, and experiences over the past four years have shaped us all into the young adults we are today. This we must never forget. We all have our special memories. The teacher or coach that believed in you when you didn't believe in yourself, the faithful friend who was always willing to listen, and the experiences at Washington that we, as a class, share, give us a common bond. We are the Class of 1995. Be proud of what you have accomplished. And as you travel down life's winding road towards your future goals, do not forget from where your journey began. We are the Washington High School Class of 1995.

Best Wishes to all,
Stacey Bokon, Class Salutatorian

Dear Seniors,

As president of the Senior class I would like to send a congratulations out to all the graduating Seniors. I know it's been a long four years but with all the hard work and dedication, you did it! This year's Senior class was a class full of hard working, spirited, and dedicated individuals. Without those individuals the Class of 1995 would not be what it is today.

Thank you to all the teachers and those outside of WHS who worked along with the Class of 1995 to help it be what it is today. A special thanks to Mrs. Krol and Mrs. Pellico for sticking with us through our many adventures throughout our four years. And a very special thanks to all the Seniors who helped in giving me the opportunity to serve as your President of the Class of 1995. I would like to wish all the Seniors future success in whatever endeavors you may endure.

*Good Luck,
Zayed Henry, Senior Class President*

Dear Fellow Seniors,

As Vice President of the Class of 1995 I would like to congratulate my fellow classmates on your efforts to get where you are at now. I also hope that your past achievements will motivate you to take the next necessary steps to your future. My past is filled with fond memories of my four years with all of you including: the first day of school our freshman year, going to the football games, decorating for the Homecomings, and preparing for our Final Prom. In the past we have even reached the goals I thought I never could, but I did with your help. I know we have split apart and went our separate way but we always came together in the end. Well the end of these years has come and we must make memories the last time on June 6th at Cedar Point. In conclusion, I would like to leave the underclassmen with the advice, to all hang in there and don't forget to grow-up.

*Sincerely,
Aneasha Lee, Vice President*

I Bequeath the Following . . .

I, Chavela Marie Agnew, hearby bequeath the following upon my departure from this school, to Latoya Agnew, my ability to get along with all my teachers, my ability to be cool with almost everybody in the school, and also my ability to make people laugh. And would you take care of Mr. Perry for me? You know how his blood pressure gets. I also leave you the ability to have a lot of fun your senior year. Don't get stressed out and don't let work pile up on you. Set your standards high and stick to them. I hope you and Shawn stay together always because I can't even see you with anyone else. To Steve Rosetto, I give you control over the French class and the ability to make Mr. Perry have a break-down anytime you want. Take care of that car and don't completely goof off senior year. Yes, have fun but you have the tendency to overdo it. To Anjanette Donaldson, I leave you with the ability to have fun being single for now. Because you know Derrick is right there for you. To Quiana Williams I leave you with the ability to get to school on time, stop going through so many changes with Steve, and just be happy. To my fellow graduates I leave you with my spirit of laughter and the ability to take things in stride. Wherever you go and whatever you do remember me as I will remember you. I can't forget my girls, Tawana Malone and Elayna Malone. Y'all gon make this school spin on its bricks. Especially you, Tawana. I leave you the ability to deal with your problems, and you have many of them. Take care of yourself and always stay one up ahead of everyone else. And to my sweeties, Edmund Kyle, Terron Poindexter, Andre Northern, Robert Love, and Chosan Macon, I hope y'all take care of yourselves and don't have too much fun next year.

I, Heather Alerding, give my nasty smelling locker that has had a hot chocolate smell in it since my sophomore year to Brandi Alerding. To the girls my friendship. To Mr. Foley my research paper-I hope you enjoy it, it was so much hard work. To Shawna Crawford my closet. And to Lisa Cyman all my debts.

I, Holly Beck, of sound mind and body, bequeath the following: to Heather camp memories of GOD, my locker because I take up too much room in yours, and my ear so you may always have someone to talk to; to Abby a telephone to remind you of our calls during Arsenic, and Nellie's eternal gratitude because "you came most opportunely"; to Erik a pom pon for war or weddings, a Xerox machine for the alphabet game, and someone to save you on stage when you forget your lines; to Tim a Euchre deck and a better partner; to Sonia the ability to lead well in Euchre; to Rich some kindness so you stop biting on me; to Booher my skeletons, whatever you think they might be; to Nikki as much fun in cheerleading and drama as I've had through the years; to Terri and next year's cheerleaders my expectations for you to be awesome next year! I'll miss you all; to Noli someone to spot you in the double as well as I did; to Mrs. Krol the next class you sponsor to be as awesome as we are, and a great big thanks for the four years; to Beth, Jessi and Rhonda memories of our senior year cheering; it wasn't totally a bust was it?; to Gator a car so you stop asking for mine; to James a winning lottery ticket to pay every debt you owe, including my Janet and CMB tapes, tons of humorous comments from me to Chris to keep you laughing, and a HUGE thanks for listening and keeping things "between us"; to Stephanie, Prom pictures, all our Prom memories to keep you smiling in the still of the night and always and forever, kleenex for all your tears, a cure for your dipsomania, and my everlasting friendship; to Stacey a carousel ride with our men sometime this summer since we missed out in Holland, all our Prom memories to last in the still of the night and always and forever, a better man than Munro and a mother who's not a dipsomaniac, plenty of things for us six to do this summer, and my everlasting friendship; to Marcy, nosebooks, Prince Charles, a tube raft for my pool, somewhere else to eat besides Hacienda, Friday conversations about Friends, a Chicago concert with Peter Cetera, the will to like more Eagles' songs, an L.B. in college, and an invit to Purdue anytime you want; to Chris, a kisses fish, Daffy Duck, a raingirl, our awesome Prom memories, the greatest summer possible, pictures of all my "cute" faces, a home away from home (Purdue)and my love always.

I, Stacey Bokon, of sound mind and body, bequeath what is left of my sanity to Mr. Foley.

I, Greg Bovenkerk, of sound mind and body, bequeath the following: to Ryan Evans my lagoon and all the fish in it, to Adam DeMeyer the sacred Road Cone, to Darry Hersom all the clothes in my closet (you wear them anyways), to Matt Huff my wristwatch (set 5 minutes fast so you'll be on time), to Mike Whitlock, well nevermind, you already have everything, and to Terry P. the instruction book to my parents' camera.

I, Marie Lynn Brumbaugh, of sound mind and body bequeath the following: to Kelly my bestfriend whom I've known for four years and has let me share her locker, we've been friends through everything, I thank you. But, I will get you back someday for that April fools joke. Have fun next year at WHS. I'll beat college. I hope you have your same locker, it's the coolest. Keep in touch. To Danielle my gossip buddy. I'll miss our talks. To Holly I hope that you smile before the years out. And your right I'll try it before the years out. But I'll understand if the answers no. To Arian I leave a new man. Shilo I leave you a shotgun ride at lunch. And I need to write out the next scenes in your book. You know what I mean. To Kimdra, remember our talks in art. To Eniko, I leave all of our good times and great stories in French and Spanish. To Tanya, my prom buddy, have fun working at Burger King. To Chris, I leave you one last assignment to copy off in government. To Mr. Perry, I leave my weirdness and talks about All My Children. To all my teachers, I thank you for what you have taught me. To who ever I forgot I thank you for being my friends. To who ever gets my locker next year I hope you learn to open it because I still can't. To Toya, a Christmas tree in June.

I, Robbie Collins, of sound mind and body, bequeath the folloing to an incoming freshman (who will pick on Pete as much as I do) my locker, to Adam DeMeyer an unlimited supply of paper and always something to write with, to Anna Munkesoe some good American candy, to Phil Weber a "You're Right!", to Ryan Duddleson all the good times and memories we've shared, and to Leigh Ann Nawrot all of my second hour homework to copy.

I, La'Channa Cornelius, of sound mind and body, bequeath the following: to Shalon Stokes my locker, to Cedric Moody my personality, to Darnisha Weatherspoon I leave you knowledge on how to handle J.C., to Sherika Crawford I leave you the tricks on how to get up outta here, to Tiffany Murphy I leave you a book on 1,000 Ways to Tell the Truth, to all the Seniors not graduating I leave you much patience and wisdom!

I, J. Ryan Duddleson, being of sound mind and body, bequeath a bottomless notebook to Greg Bovenkerk, an ATM card to Mike Whitlock so he can borrow the dollar he always wants. To the school I leave my locker so they can close it permanently in order to open up some space in the crowded hallway. I leave to Brian Kazmierzak a "Mailman" name tag. To Joel Kalka, my seat in Spanish class, since he's never there to fill his. To Jason Whitmer and Jacob Matthews I leave April 12,000 open on my calender. And to Robbie Collins, I leave a year and a half of memories, both good and bad, and an ear for listening whenever she needs it.

I, Chris Escobedo, have nothing to give in testimony because I've strained my mind. Bon Voyage to the school and I am out! Peace.

I, Jennifer Renee Finn, of sound mind and body, bequeath the following: to my brother Matt I leave you my locker and the ability to put up with Cooper next golf season. I wish you the best of luck with your three years left here at WHS. Enjoy them because they fly by. To Christy Laurence I leave all the donuts in which you can eat and the ability to complete yearbook deadlines on time. Goodluck with everything. To Jenny Stonebruner I know that you and I never became close friends. Never forget the party and good luck with everything. To James Luchowski I leave to you a bag of combos. Mrs. Coddens I leave to you a peaceful fourth hour. Thanks for all of the advice and for letting me beg you all of the time. To Brad Wilson thank you for going with me to the prom. To Jill Wall to you I leave the best of luck next year as a senior. Remember me always. To Mrs. Pat I leave you with an empty seat in the main office fourth hour. Thanks for always being there for me. Do not worry I will come back to see you. To my best friend Cheri Stoyhoff, well, it has finally come. Remember everything in which we have gone through this year. I will always be here for you. Good luck with everything you do in life. I hope that everything will all work out for you. I am really glad that we have become best friends. This year I have found out who my true friends really are. Do not forget about the best time of our senior year 12-9 and 5-10. We have had our bad times but our friendship has kept us together. All of our good times (the party) has made up for the bad. And last but not least to Josh Northam, well, what can I leave to you? I leave you with my friendship. Thank you for always making me laugh when things were not going so well. Do not forget about the party or taco bell after the prom. Good luck with everything you do. Keep in touch. And finally to everyone that I have forgotten. Good luck with everything and Ever Onward. Class of 1995 rules.

I, M. A. F., leave to my brother, M.A.F., two years of this wonderful school. I feel so sorry that I'll have to leave. Now, it is your turn to carry on our reputation. Good luck, I know you'll need it. To all my old locker buddies, I hope you'll stay in touch. Don't get into any trouble that'll put you in jail, especially, J.R.

I, Kyla Hopkins, of sound mind and body bequeath the following: to Alisha Howard my humor, to Shanna McCollough all of my government work because you will need it, to Cedric Moodie my kindness because you are too mean, to Sharon Stokes my skills to pass on to next year's Panther, to Lennie Bush my braveness, to Edmund Kyle a ticket to go down south, to Tiffany Murphy this number to check on Frankie (-), and everybody who I didn't mention I leave you peace, unity, and love and I'm out.

I, Heather Marie Elizabeth Irvin, of sound mind and body, bequeath the following: to Sharon Denise Stokes I leave all my patience so you can ignore insignificant people and concentrate on more important things like your education, to Annil Hamilton I leave these words, "Don't ever feel that you have to change to please others. You have a lot going for yourself and there's no need to stoop to their level, most likely you won't even remember their names. To Anjanette Donaldson, stay stuck-up, don't change. To Edmund Kyle (Elbow), I leave my friendship, you've always been there for me, so it's now my turn to be there for you. To Cedric Moodie (Cedmund) I leave my cheery attitude, you seem to have a chip on your shoulder. To Chosan Macon, I leave my wonderful sense of humor. To my little cutie Jermaine Reeves, I leave a video on why and how to come to school. To Cory Spears, I leave a years supply of candy for your sugar attacks. To Donald Morris, if you didn't know I'm a very nice person, quit calling me evil! To Shonte, I leave my good taste in young men. To Jason Thompson, you need to come to school. To Robyn Lang, I hope everything goes well for you, Shawn, and your baby. To Rashunda Willis, I hope you find someone who makes you happy, I know I will. To Terron A. Poindexter I leave my ability not to lie. To Derron Lee, I leave you a memory of me. To Randy Shelton, I leave a real woman for you. To Demitrius Minor, hey, weren't we supposed to go to the prom? Too bad we didn't have a class together so I can get you in trouble like I did in Mrs. Hintz's class. And now to some of the seniors. Tracee Minnis, I guess we won't have to worry about going to CORE anymore right? To Chavela Agnew, would you please make up your mind on who you want. To my best friend Nikole Green, you know we'll still be kickin' it. To Max Olivarez, Aneasha Lee, and Micheal Phillips, can we go to Chicago and get some more pizza? To Anthony D. Blake, I'm really sorry things turned out this way. I hope we'll still stay in touch, I'll always care about you no matter what. And to the people who made it know that they didn't like me, I really didn't care and I most definitely don't care now! Are one of you paying my bills or putting me through college? I don't think so.

I, Danet Jackson, of sound mind and body leave the following: Angela Cross a mind of her own, Shanasty all the luck in the world, LaChanna a great marriage, Rhonda a voice lower than her own, Zayed a basketball, Derrick a brand new set of nail files, Monica my desk in Mr. Sexton's class, Dionne boardwalk on Monopoly, Andrea an alarm clock, Tonya a good life, Sarah a chill pill, Ardelia a bat, Justin answers to all my work, Lovely a regular voice, Edmond my tracker, Cedrick my locker, Kenney my B-ball skills, Latonya lessons on lying, Tracee our secret (Flippy #2), Anesha my dolphin ring, Mike my football skills, Po-ro my prom dress, George my polo shirt, Damarkus some boxing gloves, Sharell a lot of money, Tofica my diamond ring, Dametra my height, Shanna my prom picture, Wanetta my diamond earrings, Milley my cooking skills, Thomas my desk in Coop's class, Robin a nice motherhood, Kisha P. my research paper, Jacob my Nikes, Yoshi my favorite ink pen, Mr. Foley a better class for next year, Mr. Sexton more pencils to break, Mrs. Leatherman a lot of lottery tickets, Dr. Cohen a better school, Adele B. my Reeboks, Anjanett my hairstyles, Kyla my gold necklace, Taron a new '95 Benzo, Kanesha my hair dressers number, Ben my track skills, and to all those I forgot sorry, but to all those seniors, Good Luck always!

I, Josh Johnson, yes I am gone, leave the following: As Mr. Sexton would say I apologize if I offended anyone. To the Football team I leave my hopes for a state championship. And my dream for you to retire my jersey. To coach Bov. I leave my excuses of why I missed that block. To Greg I leave my apology for getting your back fixed. To the corps I leave my ability to kiss butt the best and desire to have a drill team. Goodluck. I'll miss you guys. To the hogs I leave my butt blocking techniques, even though we are all going our own ways. We will always be the hogs. To Kevin I leave Blackthorne, ever since I started there I ran the place. To Joe I leave my YoYo. I never figured out the sleeper. To Mr. Sexton's class in 3rd hour, I leave my attitude. To Kim I leave my thought and sleepness nights of her. See ya in ten! #56 Tex.

I, Stacey Ann Kaufman, being of sound mind and body leave the following: to my sister, Nikki Kaufman, a helping hand and all the support I can give you throughout your high school career. I'm sure that you will use your remaining three years as much as I have in order to get the most out of them. You also will end up with many precious memories and relationships to carry with you along the way. I'm already so proud of you and I love you. Thank you for being the wonderful sister that you are. CHEERS! To Amy Bastine, Kelly Holm, and Michelle Daughtery I leave you my wonderful ability to tell Nikki to "shut-up" when she chatters too much. I have faith in you guys, I know you can do it! Also to Michelle I leave you all my guard memories-Congratulations! And then there's Scott Siri, to you I leave wishes for a wonderful relationship with that special someone whenever she comes along and she will be special if she has you. May yours be as happy and wonderful as Rich and mine. You've been a wonderful friend to me. To Abby Schoonaert, James Luchowski, Holly Oowski, Marcy Ross, Chris Maslowski, Holly Beck, Rich Siri, and my sister Steff I leave you these words: Thank-you so much for everything; the memories, the tears, the laughter, the years and this last chapter of high school as we close the book and start new ones on our own. I'm so glad that we all joined as "co-authors" for these last chapters. I'm sure we will never forget it. And also to you Rich, you've always been important to me, may you always be a part of my life no matter how big or small. Never let go of your dreams and may we each get all that we dream for. I love you!

I, Stephanie Rae Kaufman, of sound mind and body, bequeath the following: First of all, to Nikki, the greatest little sis God could have ever given me, I leave all of my high school years and memories for you to try and top. All of my old quizzes and notes and papers are yours to do with as you wish (for a small sum of course), and all of my talents I leave to you to use to the best of your ability, even though you don't need them. Keep the Kaufman name alive your next three years and have fun. To Scott Siri, I leave to you binoculars to keep a good eye on Nikki for me, and an unbreakable rifle for those quads. To next years winter guard, I leave much luck and a lot of caffeine for the long rehearsals and bus rides ahead. I also leave a floor since I never got to do a show with one (NOT!). To Erik Kolacz, first I want to leave you a life-size poster of me to put in your locker so you won't forget me. Then, I'll have to leave you a tank full of gas so you can come and see me. I hope the next two years are successful for you. I leave with you the memories we have made these past few months and thank you for being a part of such a wonderful and happy ending to my high school years. To Marcy, Abby, Chris, Holly B., Rich, Holly O., and James, I leave stationary so we can keep in touch. Please, don't let this be good-bye. I love you all!

- Special Thanks -

Dear Mrs. Krol,

On behalf of the senior class we would like to extend to you a big thanks. You have always been there for us. Whenever we had a problem or a sticky situation to get out of you were there to help give advice, bail us out or at least give us a shoulder to cry on. We couldn't have gotten through these four years without you and we are so thankful that we were able to have you as our class sponsor.

We will always remember your enthusiasm during all of the homecomings and other functions that the senior class shone through. Half of our sparkle and shine came from you. Again, thank you for everything, Mrs. Krol, and we love you!

Sincerely,
The Class of 1995

- * Mr. Moriconi and the LaSalle Printing Class for all their understanding patience and dedication to publications.
- * Eric Siebenaler for all of his wonderful art work. The Hatchet and Senior Edition would not be the same without them.
- * Mrs. Lynda Pellico for her support and dedication to the Class of 1995.
- * Mr. Walt Krol for his time and efforts as he helped the Class of 1995.
- * Mr. Dave Kaser for all his patience and involvement with the Class of 1995. We certainly wish you good luck and great fun.
- * The Washington Faculty and Staff for their four years of continuous support. We hope you will always remember the Class of 1995.
- * Mrs. Richardson for letting us take over the Hatchet office. We wish you good luck with future publications.
- * To all of the understanding teachers that allowed us to use some of their class time to work on this publication. It was greatly appreciated!
